

INTERNSHIPS

At FIDM, we believe that students get more out of their education when they apply what they've learned as they work alongside professionals in their field. Here a full-time department works hard to find industry-related internships and part-time positions so our students can get valuable experience on their résumés while attending college.

“When I need an Intern or a Production Assistant, I call FIDM!”

FIDM works with top companies to give students access to some of the best internship opportunities available. Here are just a few:

LISA KLINE STORES Students in our Visual Communications Program learn the art of retail display through internships with Lisa Kline Stores, a favorite of Hollywood celebs and stylists.

JOHN F. KENNEDY CENTER FOR THE PERFORMING ARTS After graduating from FIDM, Yolanda Jackson was the recipient of this prestigious internship in Washington, D.C.

PROP HOUSES In FIDM's Associate of Arts Advanced Program of Entertainment Set Design & Decoration, internships give students hands-on training in this exciting art. Students get experience visiting prop houses, ordering props, watching the shooting process, and more.

“FIDM gave me a really great start,” said Assistant Costume Designer Suzy Magnin, “and a lot of contacts. I got my first job, on Gilmore Girls, through my connections at FIDM.” Since then she's worked on Cold Case, CSI, and So You Think You Can Dance, among others.

KELLY WEARSTLER Famed Los-Angeles based Interior Designer Kelly Wearstler hires FIDM Interior Design Students as interns.

DIANE LEVIN, POLECI Merchandise Product Development Students intern with Diane Levin, the CEO of fashion apparel company Poleci.

ARMANI AND SAKS FIFTH AVENUE These high-end companies both choose interns from among FIDM's Visual Communications Students.

ANTHROPOLOGIE, BURBERRY & MORE Students also intern with a notable list of top companies, including Anthropologie, E! Entertainment, Michael Kors Public Relations Department in New York City, Burberry, Los Angeles Magazine, and Sony Pictures Television.

SMASHBOX, STILA & MORE Beauty Industry Merchandise & Marketing Students intern with companies such as Smashbox, Stila, Color Factory, Urban Decay/Hard Candy, Lorac Cosmetics, Murad, and Studio at Fred Segal, among many others.
