FIDM STUDENT HOUSING

Make friends, learn life-building skills, and be part of a community.

Why Choose FIDM Housing?

> It’s a great way to acclimate to college life and a new city, meet new friends, attend fun events, and network with other students.

> All of our units are 2-bedroom, 2-bath premium apartment units located near each campus in LA, OC, and SD. (SF Housing staff provides affordable independent housing options close to campus.) Most students apply to be in a shared bedroom, shared bath with another resident. Apartments accommodate up to four residents. Private rooms are available at double the cost.

> The cost includes rent, basic cable, furniture, utilities, and internet access.

> Resident Advisors live on site (LA only) and regularly visit each unit to help students transition and learn about FIDM.

> Student Housing is not a dorm, but FIDM does manage the individual units within the privately owned and operated apartment properties.

“Our housing is pretty unique, in that it’s independent living, with dorm-like rules. And because our students are on a fast-track to be industry-ready when they graduate, the FIDM Student Housing experience becomes a great way to learn about themselves and build important life skills.”

– FIDM Housing Associate Director, LA

Students can use FIDM Housing as a stepping stone to fully independent living or stay in Student Housing for the entire program. Independent Living Options:

- Independent apartment options are listed on FIDM.edu.
- Apartment and roommate referrals are available through the FIDM Portal for accepted students.
- New students can connect with other accepted FIDM Students to meet and discuss housing through our private online community.
- SF Housing staff provides current, affordable residence club referrals in great areas like Union Square, Nob Hill, and Pacific Heights.
- Students can independently rent an apartment at any of the buildings we use for FIDM Student Housing.
- Contact FIDM Housing for more options tailored to your needs.

“I chose FIDM Housing for my 18 year-old daughter because it was her first time away from home.” — Carol M., FIDM Parent

“I chose to explore the independent options because I’ve lived on my own before and I know the city I’m studying in well.” — Katherine P., FIDM Student

“Our FIDM Housing experience was a very positive one. We truly appreciated the beauty, security, and convenience of the FIDM Housing accommodations.” — Rena S., FIDM Parent
